For immediate release

The 2021 Saskatchewan Orchestral Association's International Saito Conducting workshop will be held in Saskatoon from July 17 to 24. Participants will work with an experienced instructional team led by Wayne Toews and a profession ensemble. Details are posted at <http://conductorschool.com/SOA.html>

There are three spots available for any who want to register an expression of interest. Official registrations will be invited once the pandemic restrictions have been removed. Those who are interested in participating should communicate their interest as soon as possible. The workshop serves conductors working in schools, community groups, professional ensembles and universities.

Online collaboration with conductors is also available.
