Robin Tinani's love of music began with piano lessons at age 5. She switched from piano to flute in Grade 6 - joining her friends in Grade 6 school band.

She was active in the Regina Lions Junior Band, playing flute in the concert band and piccolo in the marching band. After high school she went to Brandon University, completing her Bachelor of Flute Performance. After moving back to Regina, she has maintained a busy home studio while raising a family. Robin has been provided instruction at many different SBA Band Camps, honour bands and beginner band clinics. She has also completed her Masters in Flute Performance at the University of Regina.
